NOS-SYSTEMATICS Expands into New York

GAITHERSBURG, MD – National Office Systems-SYSTEMATICS, the nation’s largest provider of storage and information management systems, today announced plans to expand into New York state with its high-tech and traditional solutions to records and asset management.

Today’s announcement comes on the heels of the early March strategic partnership between Maryland-based National Office Systems (NOS) www.nosinc.com and Systematics, Inc., www.systematicsinc.com headquartered in Westborough, MA. The partnership of the two industry leaders created the USA’s largest full-service provider of high density and mobile shelving, automated storage and retrieval systems, radio frequency identification applications and file-tracking and asset-management software.

Extending NOS-SYSTEMATICS’ reach into the New York market is the first step of the company’s growth strategy to expand its offerings throughout the Northeast corridor, says Joe Alvarez, NOS Principal.

“This expansion makes good business sense,” adds Tom Schaefer, SYSTEMATICS President. “Many current clients have operations in New York. This move provides them with the quality and consistency that they rely upon and the additional services and products that our new partnership can offer on the New York State Contract.”

NOS-SYSTEMATICS works with major manufacturers of mobile storage and high density storage solutions, firearms lockers and computer security products to customize hardware and software that improve productivity and workflow, reduce costs, enhance security and save space for companies, professional practices, agencies and institutions. These include Borroughs Corporation, manufacturer of mobile storage units; Datum Filing Systems, manufacturer of high density storage and physical computer security products; and Tiffin Metal Products, manufacturer of evidence, firearms and wardrobe lockers.
